

Arlington Colleen Weds
In Irish Romance

Climaxing an Irish romance which ended in marriage last August an Arlington girl who found happiness in a tiny Irish village last summer welcomed her husband to this country, on Tuesday upon his arrival at the Boston airport.

"U. S. A. Best"
Says Bridegroom

The bride is the former Catherine Doherty, 28, of 99 Bow Street, Arlington, who from now on will be receiving her mail at that address as Mrs. Daniel Devlin. She served with the WAVES during the last war, as a specialist second class, and following the war went to Ireland and Scotland on a vacation trip where she visited relatives during the summer (Continued On Page Two)

Large Audience Greet
CYO Minstrel Premiere

A large and enthusiastic audience comprised of leading clergymen, business men of Arlington, social and philanthropic leaders of the town, together with hundreds of lovers of the old time minstrel shows, greeted the CYO "Swanee Minstrels" on the opening night of their two night performances in behalf of St. James parish, Arlington Heights.

Jack Hennessy's famous orchestra entertained the audience in a half hour musical program previous to the opening of the program. The address of welcome was given by Francis C. Hart, wellknown member of the St. James Parish.

To the many out of town guests attending, the high quality of the

NORFOLK PAINTINGS
JUDGED IN CONTEST

The final judging of paintings submitted in the recent art contest sponsored by the Norfolk Paint and Varnish Company, took place on Tuesday. The judges included Mayor Charles Ross of Quincy and Aldo C. Chiesa, art teacher at the Braintree high school. The paintings have attracted much attention here, while they were on display in the windows of the Norfolk Paint and Varnish Company.

First Parish
Annual Meeting

The First Congregational Parish (Unitarian), of which Rev. John Nicol Mark is pastor, held its annual meeting on Friday evening in the church vestry. Presiding at the meeting was Alonzo Garcelon, chairman of the parish committee. Committee reports and the election of officers, together with the reception to new members took up the meeting. The Evening Alliance of the church served a parish supper at 6.30 o'clock.

New Apparatus Last Word In Fire Fighting

Delivery has just been made of the new five unit fire truck, to be known as Ladder No. 3, a five unit, sixty-five foot Quintuplet Aerial ladder truck. The truck was contracted for on June 3, 1946, and it is anticipated that the new piece of equipment will prove its worth as a prominent member of Arlington's fire fighting apparatus.

The contract price was nineteen thousand dollars ($19,000), and the value of the truck at the time of delivery has now increased to the sum of thirty-six thousand dollars ($36,000).

There are only a few of this modern type of quintuplet ladder truck, considered the last word in apparatus of its kind, in use throughout the country. The five

No Time For Politics

The Arlington Press is of the opinion that this is NOT the time to make any temporary appointment to the vacancy which now exists in the office of the Town Clerk.

We do feel that the fair and impartial course to pursue is for Miss Clara M. White, Assistant Town Clerk, an experienced employee of this office to continue to fill the vacancy made by the untimely death of Mr. Ryder.

We understand that there are as many as fifteen aspirants to the position of Town Clerk, and we consider it only fair to them that no temporary appointment be made at this time. In our opinion any such appointments would leave a bad impression in the minds of the voters of Arlington.

We, therefore, suggest that any such temporary appointment be postponed until such time as the March elections take place at which time the voters themselves can make the final selection, without any handicap being given to any particular one of the aspirants.

Local Stores Offer Fine Selection Of Gifts For Christmas Surprises

Never before in the long history of Arlington retail merchants, have the local stores been so attractively decorated as this Christmas season, or stocked with such a fine assortment of Holiday merchandise for the wise and discriminating buyer, who prefers to save his time and strength, as well as to be a booster of his home town, as now.

Starting the first of this week, the retail stores are remaining open until nine o'clock, up through the day before Christmas as announced by the Arlington Chamber of Commerce, which means hundreds can take advantage of the longer shopping hours for completing their arduous Christmas buying.

A great deal of the merchandise so attractively displayed and priced has been contracted for months in advance, and represents hours of concentrated thought and selective buying by Arlington's merchants, and the displays seen around town these pre-holiday days, surely cannot be surpassed by those of any neighborhood city or town.

So, let's be patriotic and civic-minded at this happy holiday season, and do our buying and shopping right here in the old home town, where diligent shop keepers have long been at work to make this the best season ever in the history of Arlington.

Ask Dedication Of Town Playground To Lt. Barry

One of the articles in the Town Warrent to come up at the annual town meeting held this coming March, asks that the Summer street playground, be named in honor of the late police lieutenant, Daniel P. Barry. Lt. Barry, who died during the past year, was coordinator of the Arlington Auxiliary police, and was prominent in organizing the Arlington Youth baseball league, which is having a successful career ever since its inception.

of 1947. She met Devlin in the town of Clomany in County Donegal, while visiting her relatives there. He was living on a local farm, and was employed in the trucking business. Following a brief courtship, the couple were married in August of 1948, and the bride returned to her Arlington home in October. The wedding took place in the little Irish Village, where her father, John Doherty, visiting there with his daughter, and renewing old acquaintances after an absence of 37 years, gave the bride away. The bride returned to her Arlington home in October.

At first held for a brief period at detention headquarters pending the procuring of certain necessary documents, the bridegroom was quickly released and the couple proceeded to the Arlington home, where they will be pleased to greet their many friends and relatives. On viewing America for the first time, Devlin is credited with the remark—"It's the greatest country ever."

The bride is employed by the Loyal Protective Life Insurance Company, at 18 Deerfield Street, where she was employed at the time of her enlistment in the WAVES, returning to her former job upon re-entering civilian life.

LARGE AUDIENCE . . .

enthusiastic mood for a delightful three hours of exceptional entertainment. Bill Collins, featured soloist for the Archdiocese Holy Name Choral Society, made an instant hit with "That Old Irish Mother of Mine." Alice Quessy, a senior at Arlington high school and a drum major on the high school band, brought down the house in her dancing of "The Fandango." Alice plans to become a member of the famous "Ice Follies" following her graduation.

Arlington's Singing Cop, Walter Smith, brought nostalgic memories to many with his singing of "Let the Rest of the World Go By." The novelty act, "The Straw Man," put on by Al Fitzgerald, was much enjoyed. Al was a classmate at Boston College, of both Father Robert W. Shea, and Father Charles F. McCarthy, popular curates at St. James.

Drummer Ken Troy, a graduate of the Arlington high school, achieved considerable prominence by forming a school orchestra, while attending school. His "Drum rhythm" was proved a favorite among the younger set in the audience. Popular Katherine (Kate) Kelly, pleased her listeners with her delightful rendition of the soprano solo—"Mother Machree." The Leonard Sisters went to town with their unique interpretation of "Sing For your Father." Joe King, fifty-eight years young, brought down the house with his specialty number—"Mister Tap." Hal and Peggy Teto, harmonized with a few oldtime numbers, which were well received. The Three Glamour "Girls," Chimmy, George and Bill, were greeted by laughter and applause throughout their unique dance revue. "Three Old Maids from Lynn." Connie Riley, cutely costumed in Scotch plaid, made an instant impression in her cute solo number, "Little Scotch Lass." Joe Barry gave a snappy number "Songs You Like with Peppy Piano," with dance and piano, and dedicated his first selection to little Monica Cotter, one of the young members of the parish. His second number was in honor of Father O'Connor, beloved pastor of the St. James parish, who celebrated his 76th birthday on Tuesday.

The Floradora Sextet, under the expert direction of Mary Corbett Burns delighted all with their original song and dance revue. Following the presentation of this glamour gal sextet, the popular master of ceremonies, Gene Leonard read a telegram in which the Floradora girls were offered an opportunity by a leading Hollywood producer to go to Hollywood as a result of their talent and ability. Ruth Powers caused quite a mild sensation among the audience when she swung her companion Ed Pacini on to the stage in her rendition of "Never Trust a Man."

Another young artist who quickly won the hearts of the audience, was Claire Uavey, with her imitation of Sophie Tucker, singing "Some One of These Days." The expert performance of Ricky and Elaine gave the audience a good idea of what excellent talent is in store for the members of the parish for the future.

The final act of the "Swanee Minstrels" brought a successful close to the evening's enjoyment with the chorus and each and every member of the cast uniting in the grand finale "Give My Regards to Broadway."

Among the special invited guests of the evening, were Rev. Maurice J. O'Connor, D. D., pastor of St. James Church, Rev. Joseph P. Mahoney, St. Joseph's church, Medford, and Rev. John J. Flynn, of Needham.

Arlington Women Hold Breakfast

The Arlington Catholic Woman's club held its annual communion breakfast on Sunday morning in St. Agnes School hall, following the 8:30 mass. Rev. John Carlin, director of the Paulist Information centre, gave a most interesting address on "Calling All Apostles." Mrs. William F. Harkins was chairman of the breakfast.

cess of the affair goes to Rev. Father Robert W. Arlington Leads Hockey League

Arlington won first place as victor in the top league hockey when on Saturday it beat Rindge 5 to 2 and thereby taking undisputed lead in the G. B. I. loop, as a quartet of games were played at the Garden.

The victory, which enabled Arlington to become the first team to win two league games, was a rather one sided mauling of Rindge Tech's ironman sextet. Bill Leary and Ed Emery scored on spectacular solo sprints for the victors. Both turning in assists on other goals as well. Paul Robson, who scored three goals for himself, benefitted by these and also scored unassisted with a bullet shot late in the game.

The combine of Jim Duffy and Dick Pelouquin counted twice for Rindge, while Bob Grant, in the Tech goal, was the busiest player on the ice in making many good saves. Doug Campbell, the Arlington goalie, was not kept as busy, but he turned in a performance equally as brilliant and far more effective in view of the final score.

Military Funeral For Town Meeting Member Killed In Action, Today

Last honors will be paid to Pfc. Charles H. Richardson 33, a town meeting member killed in action at Libramont, Belgium, on January 8, 1945 at a military funeral held this afternoon (Thursday) from St. John's Episcopal church, at two o'clock.

The body of the World War II, hero has laid in state at Cox's Funeral Home on Wednesday evening from seven until nine o'clock.

Richardson was a member of the First Battalion, 345th Infantry, 87th Division, of General Patton's Third Army. When killed, he was acting as a gunner of an anti tank squad, which was holding up German tanks, when his gun position was spotted and wiped out by concentrated artillery fire of the enemy. Ten of the twelve men in the squad met death at the time.

Mr. Richardson was the son of P. E. Richardson, of 137 Newland road, where the war hero resided until the time of his induction into the army.

Volunteers Pack Christmas Stockings For Veterans

Arlington men and women in local veterans and servicemen's hospitals will be among those to benefit from the Christmas program of the Boston Red Cross. Here Mrs. Varaztad H. Three Arlington Couples Observe Anniversary

During the past few days, three wellknown Arlington couples are observing their golden wedding anniversaries. They are the Rev. Doctor and Mrs. Samuel Gilbert Ayers, of 51 Menotomy road. Dr. and Mrs. Peter Baker, of 222 Gray Street, and Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon R. Goodwin, of 21 Alpine Street. Our congratulations to them all and best wishes for a happy future.

ST. AGNES C.Y.O.

BARN DANCE DEC. 23

On Thursday night, Dec. 23rd, the St. Agnes C. Y. O. of Arlington will sponsor a real old fashion Christmas party, with square dances being in vogue. All members will be admitted by showing their membership cards at the door. The admission price for friends of the C. Y. O. will be .50. A professional "caller", and a real old time fiddler, have been engaged to put on the square dances. Informal attire will be the rule, and the promise of a good time will be assured to all. Everyone is requested to bring a small gift for the grab bag. Only those who do, will participate in this function. Refreshments will be served.

The girls basketball program got underway last Wednesday night at the High School gymnasium, as thirty-five C. Y. O. girls reported to the director, Mrs. Agnes Bray. This group will continue on Wednesday evenings at the same place. Any girls who attend a physical education school, and would like to gain some experience by helping with this program, kindly contact Mrs. Bray.

On Friday evening Dec. 17, coaches John "Red" Cadagan and Dick Bradley will welcome aspirants for the boys basketball team. This practice will be held in the Jr. High East gymnasium at 7 p. m. All boys are welcome whether they've played before or not, as each will be given a chance to play. An inter-parish league will be formed besides the team to represent the parish in C. Y. O. competition.

ST. JAMES CUBS

PARTY TOMORROW

Pack 13 Cub Scouts of St. James parish will hold their annual Christmas party Friday evening, December 17, at the Junior High School West. It will be an outstanding affair with plenty of fun, gifts, Santa Claus, etc. George Lemos, Cub Master, will conduct the affair and the cub scouts and their parents will remember this Christmas party. An Award of Honor will be given to the Pack for completing their Four Point program this year—one of the few cub units to obtain this award. Another feature of the evening will be the enrollment of the full pack and their leaders in the National Pet Protection Patrol, an organization dedicated to the protection and humane care of dogs, cats and their pets. All enrolled will receive their membership cards and badges. Henry E. Keenan, District Chairman, will enroll the Pack, and will announce a free moving picture party on December 31st in a Boston theatre for enrolled boys and girls in the new Pet Patrol.

FRANCES E. WILLARD

AUXILIARY ACTIVITIES

The Frances E. Willard Auxiliary of Arlington Heights was entertained at luncheon by the President Mrs. R. H. B. Smith, on Thursday Dec. 9th, at her home 37 Dix st., in Winchester. A Christmas party with exchange of gifts followed the business meeting.

On Thursday Dec. 2nd, the Auxiliary visited the Ann Judson Ross Home in Northboro and entertained the patients with music and Christmas carols. Mrs. Robert Keeney, Mrs. Carl Richmond and Mrs. G. E. Traut, all of Winchester were the committee.

Arlington First National Super Store Managers

CHARLES R. CONWAY, meat manager at the new supermarket at 808 Massachusetts Avenue, Arlington, has been associated with the meat department of First National Stores for the past 16 years. A native of Somerville, he has worked for the Company in that City as well as in other suburban towns. Like many other First National managers, Conway spent three years in the army during the war, serving in the Pacific Area. He lives with his wife, Mary, and their four children at 69 Fairfax Street, Somerville.

JOHN J. WALDRON, grocery manager of the store, has been with First National Stores for 22 years. His previous locations were at Milford and Belmont. He brings to the new supermarket a broad experience in the food industry and a knowledge of customer needs. Born in Galway, Ireland, Waldron has lived in the Boston area for a quarter of a century. He lives at 64 Matignon Avenue, Cambridge with Mrs. Waldron and their two children, John and Joan.

Local Choruses Take Part In Christmas Broadcasts

Local choirs and choral will be featured in the Christmas programming of station WCOP and WCOP-FM. First to be heard will be a chorus of the Boston Council of Boy Scouts who will broadcast a carol program from 11:45 to 12:00 noon on December 18th. The weekend before Christmas will further be highlighted with a broadcast of the International Children's Party from Washington with youngsters of the various embassies participating.

On Honor Roll At New Hampton

Two Arlington boys, Richard Cavicke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cavicke, of 155 Jason street, and Donald White, son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. White, of 122 Claremont avenue, were two out of two hundred boys to be named on the honor roll for the first marking period at New Hampton school, it was recently announced by Headmaster Frederick Smith, of the school.

Boys' Club Midgets Edge Out West End Boys' Club 13-12

The Arlington Boys' Club Midgets won their second straight game of the season by nosing out the West End House in a low scoring hard fought game.

At the end of the first half, the Arlington Midgets were leading to 4. Tom Cosgrove and Dick Fowler shared the scoring honors in the first half with Cosgrove scoring five points, while Bowler scored 4.

In the second half, the West End House started connecting and tied the game up 10 to 10. Arlington's right guard, Dickie Bowler, scored a good one hand jump shot inside mid-court, putting his team ahead by one basket. With time running out, Tom Jackman, of the West End House scored on a shot similar to Bowler's to tie the score 12 to 12.

With twenty seconds to play, Rosselli, of Arlington was fouled and given one free throw on which he scored the winning point for his team.

Married Here

Miss Martha Jane Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell, of 12 Aerial street, Arlington Heights, became the bride on Saturday, of Kenneth E. Gott, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose J. Gott, of 6 Kilsythe road, Arlington Heights.

Boston Catholic Theatre To Present Famous Dramas

Happy with the success of its two recent openings, the Boston Catholic Theatre is now deep in preparations for the continuance of its full schedule of outstanding plays which will be presented this season to Boston theatre lovers. On November 29, the Passion Players Guild of Woburn, which under the leadership of Edward P. O'Donnell is the organizing body of the Boston Catholic Theatre, presented the sparkling comedy, "Career Angel" in a preview performance for patients at Brighton Marine Hospital with arrangements made by the NCCS Boston Area Office, through Miss Mary M. Duddy, Arlington, Assistant Executive Secretary. The general public will have the opportunity to enjoy this same play at

New England Mutual Hall in January on a date soon to be announced.

The Boston Catholic Theatre's repertoire for the 1948-49 season also includes the dramatic "Joan of Lorraine," "The Song of Bernadette," "The White Sister," "Cradle Song," "Dark Victory," and "The Man of Sorrows."

Any persons desiring further information regarding the dates of the above productions or information on subscription and individual tickets may contact Miss Betty C. Crosby, 20 Cornell st., or Miss Mary M. Duddy, 11 Dartmouth Street.

All proceeds of the Boston Catholic Theatre are donated to Archbishop Cushing's Charity Fund.

Arlington Pupils Contribute To Children's Christmas Gifts

The pennies contributed by grade and high school pupils in Arlington schools, helped to purchase many of the 6,000 Christmas gifts which will be distributed to underprivileged children in the Greater Boston area as part of the Junior Red Cross annual Christmas project.

Seventy eight welfare organizations will distribute the gifts. Some of the toys were made on local playgrounds this summer, many were made in schools as special Junior Red Cross projects, as in the George T. Angell School Roxbury, and the Lucy Stone School, Dorchester. The remaining gifts were purchased from pennies contributed at the time school classrooms enrolled in Junior Red Cross.

Five hundred dolls, dressed in the Dorchester, Jamaica Plain and Roslindale High schools, will be among the gifts going to these youngsters. Others include doll beds, books, hobby horses, soft animals made from oil cloth, balls, games and knitted articles of clothing.

Distributing the gifts will be the welfare organizations of hospitals, settlement houses and the Red Cross Home Service.

The enthusiasm with which the gifts are received by the children is told in a letter from the head social worker at Massachusetts General Hospital to the Junior Red Cross.

"It is not possible to list each of the many gifts you sent, but one doll went to a small girl who has been ill and away from home, another to one facing an operation and able to walk only on a level, and the last to a child whose family has no money and who will rejoice in the attractive doll we are sending. Please thank all the many children and adults who have made Christmas such a happy one for our patients."

"Robin Hood" Delights Arlington Youngsters

Over thirteen hundred school pupils thoroughly enjoyed the story of "Robin Hood" at the three performances which was presented to them at the Junior High East Auditorium on December 10th and December 11th. The Arlington Council of Parent-Teacher Associations is the group which sponsors this endeavor to bring higher forms of entertainment to our school children. The play was very well presented by the Boston Tributary Theatre players with Mr. Eliot Duvey director.

The portrayal of 'Robin Hood' by Paul Clarke was very thrilling and daring. "The Lady Marian," played by Robin Ladd was all that could be desired as "Robin Hood's" sweetheart. The play, as a whole was light, colorful and most appealing to the enthusiastic audience.

I Wonder?

I WONDER if you could tell us Beatrice of the Arlington National Bank who the girl was that answered the phone at 3:45 in the p. m., and said "Good Morning" Arlington National Bank?

I WONDER why the Xmas lights weren't extended on Medford St., to include the businesses in that area?

I WONDER if the minstrel show wasn't the best ever?

I WONDER if Walter Smith the singing cop didn't uphold nicely the police dept. of Arlington?

I WONDER if the "Straw man", Al Fitzgerald didn't do a remarkable job?

I WONDER if "that" End man shouldn't buy a zipper?

I WONDER if Katherine (Kate) Kelly knows our favorite song is "Galway Bay"?

I WONDER if Kate would send us the words to it?

I WONDER if some members of the Floradora Sextet didn't do things up brown by ending up the night at the Old Mill?

I WONDER who stole those 400 Xmas Tress from a local lot?

I WONDER if Bill Collins, Gene Leonard and Stan Sorrentino aren't three of the finest singers around these parts?

I WONDER if you knew that Rev. Maurice J. O'Connor, Pastor of St. James' Church celebrated his 76th birthday Tuesday?

I WONDER if the Press didn't receive a great compliment when someone said to us, (talking about the crowded hall at the minstrel show) "thanks to the Press, you helped tremendously to put the show across?"

I WONDER if Mr. Bliss of Jaynes Gown Shop shouldn't be given a vote of thanks for helping in recovering the lost scarf?

I WONDER if those photographers at the minstrels didn't just receive their cameras for Xmas, judging from all the shutter clicking going on?

I WONDER if anybody would have mind if the photos had left the hall and went out and got a few pictures of the passing wind?

I WONDER if you know it is now 11 p. m. Wednesday and the Press goes to bed at 12, so shall we say goodnight?

Golf Classes Cancelled For Holidays

All Golf classes will be suspended until after the Xmas holidays. Next classes will be held as follows:

Tuesday January 4, 1949, Junior High West.

Wednesday January 5, 1949, Junior High West.

There will be two classes in session on each of the above night. One class begins at 7:45 P. M. The second class begins at 8:45 P. M. Those who have already registered and taken their first lesson have been assigned to a regular class period.

At the present time there are six vacancies in the second class at the Junior High East; and twelve vacancies in the second class at the Junior High West.

Anyone wishing to enter either of these unfilled classes should register through the Park Department office town hall. Once these classes are filled a waiting list will then be established for future classes.

Classes will be conducted regularly on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings after January 1, 1949.

GARDEN CLUB

The December meeting of the Arlington Garden club, was held Wednesday afternoon, at two o'clock, in the Robbins Library hall. "Christmas at the Old Homestead" was presented by Mrs. Enid Louise Fairborn, who was the guest speaker. Refreshments and a social hour followed the address. The members brought many useful and attractive gifts to be distributed to shut-ins throughout the town.

Body Of Lt. Malone On The Way Home

The body of Second Lieutenant George T. Malone, Jr., of 40 Newcomb Street, is among the 2047 hero dead being returned from the European area on board the Army Transport Lt. James E. Robinson, according to advices received from army officials. The remains were originally interred in military cemeteries in both England and France. Lt. Malone was killed while serving as a member of the air forces. Suitable military services will be held pending the arrival here of the body.

Boys' Club Quintet Tips Legion 52-50

The Boys Club and Legion Post No. 39 recently played one of their traditionally exciting games at the Boy's Club court.

At the end of the first half the Boys Club had a three point lead 21-18, mainly through the accurate shooting of Bob O'Neil and Joe Keohane.

The Midget basketball team won their first game of the year Saturday by defeating a game Roxbury team 4-33. The Arlington Midgets held the lead all through game with Tom Cosgrove a veteran of three years with the Midgets played one of his best games by throwing in 14 points to lead the scorers. Dick Bowler, Don Malatesta and Paul Cuniff also veterans played excellent game.

Alice H. Rogers, served during the recent World War with the 17th Cavalry Reconnaissance Squadron in the European theatre of war, where he was the recipient of the Purple Heart medal. He enlisted in the United States army on March 1, 1943, receiving his basic training at Camp Hood, Texas.

Catholic Women's Guild Christmas Party Dec. 21

St. James Branch No. 17 Massachusetts Catholic Women's Guild will hold its annual Christmas party for members and friends, next Tuesday evening, December 21, at 8:30 in the upper church vestry.

The special guests will include Rev. Dr. Maurice J. O'Connor, Chaplain, Father McCarthy, Rev. Robert W. Shea, and State Deputy Mrs. M. Garaway, of Watertown.

The members are requested to bring a fifty cent package for the exchanging of gifts. Special gifts will be presented to the guests of the evening.

A very fine Christmas program has been arranged by the committee in charge, including entertainment and refreshments. All members of the organization are cordially invited to attend this holiday party.

The general chairman is Mrs. Emily McGrath, assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth A. Coleman, Regent, Mrs. Elise Hauser, Mrs. Rita Warren, Mrs. Catherine Kelley and the officers of the Branch.

The series of matinee bridge and whist parties have been discontinued by the Branch during the Christmas holidays, until Tuesday, January 11th, at two p. m.

Social Alliance Christmas Service

The annual Christmas service of the Social Alliance of the First Parish Unitarian church, of Arlington, was held on Monday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock. The service was conducted by Mrs. Richard W. Bennett, the president. Marion T. Rudkin, wellknown lecturer, delighted her audience with her talk on "A Star-lit Christmas." Miss Helen Bedford, well known harpist was soloist. Tea was served in the ladies' parlor. The Alliance were hostesses to the women of the Arlington church for the afternoon.

Arlington Heights Cat Wins Blue Ribbin As Best In Show

Rubbing shoulders with the elite of catdom in the final contests of the all breed cat show held by the New England Cat Club, at Mechanics building recently a cream male Persian, Rosegate's Judy Punch of Transmere, owned by Mrs. Mabel LaFayette, of Arlington Heights, won the blue ribbon for the best cat in the show.

Needless to say, Mrs. LaFayette was overjoyed when her three years old Persian male came off with the coveted blue ribbons for "best cat" and "best long haired cat." Rosegate's Judy Punch also answers to the name of Buffy, and his favorite dish is horsemeat in the raw.

According to its owner, the cat has extremely affectionate nature and Saturday marked its initial appearance in a show under the Cat Fanciers Federation rules. A champion cat, Buffy has won prizes in other shows throughout the length and breadth of the land and is conspicuous for his cream colored fur and deep orange-blue eyes, truly a feline aristocrat of the first water.

Postal Officials Report Record Christmas Mail

Although handling a daily record mail load over the past six months, postal officials report that they are receiving a Christmas mail load far in excess of former years. They do advise, however, that parcels for the far west have not yet been mailed have little or no chance of Christmas delivery unless they are sent by air parcel post, special delivery or special handling. Mail for Arizona, California, Oregon and Washington closed for Christmas delivery on December 3rd, while parcels for delivery in a large part of the mid-west and the South closed on Wednesday of this week.

More and more business establishments are sending packages by parcel post and conservative estimates place the increase at 40 per cent over one year ago. Acting Postmaster Francis A. Crowley has issued an appeal to the public to please cooperate this year by mailing packages and cards even earlier than last year. Care in packaging is stressed with the use of heavier cartons strongly recommended.

Greeting cards for western states which are to go forward by surface means should be mailed at once. It is suggested that they be sent by first class mail in sealed envelopes with the name and address of the sender shown at the upper left corner of the envelope.

Persons who plan to mail gift packages are urged to bring them to the post-office in the mornings so as to avoid heavy postoffice traffic when business houses are depositing mail in the afternoon. The purchase of stamps now, in anticipation of Christmas card needs is recommended. A good idea for stamps this year is that of using commemorative stamps. These special stamps are welcomed by the thousands of collectors of collectors in Greater Boston.

Airlines are prepared to move a tremendous load of air parcel post this Christmas and all post-offices have been given special instructions concerning the dispatch of this mail. Be sure addresses are complete and correct and are written in ink or typewritten. Do not use pencil. The use of postal zone numbers in the address will help the postoffice to expedite the mail.

Hardy PTA Fair

The annual fair of the Hardy Parent Teachers Association, held on Tuesday evening, December 14th, at the Hardy School, brought out a large crowd. Many Christmas articles were on display, including aprons, children's articles, candies, food of all kinds, and a white elephant table. The committee in charge was under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Killian, chairman, who was assisted by Mrs. Edward Murphy, Mrs. John Burrell, Mrs. Benjamin Beninati, Mrs. Ernest Hoffman, Mrs. Harold Lafayette, Mrs. Keith Milne and Mrs. Nicholas Quinzio, Mrs. James Williams, Mrs. Ralph Spaulding and Mrs. Henry Baldwin. The featured speaker at the business session was Mr. Fred Garragus, of station WEEI, who spoke on the subject "Radio Programs for our Children. Mrs. Milton Brecher presided at the business session.

St. Jerome HNS Holds Annual Sports Night

The St. Jerome Holy Name Society conducted a most successful sports night at Ye Lantern, Pond Lane, Arlington on Monday evening, at eight o'clock. The invited guests included Rev. Joseph M. Fitzgibbons, pastor, Rev. John F. Pettie, former spiritual director, and Rev. Thomas Hudgins, new curate recently assigned to the parish. Also accepting an invitation to attend, was Henry O'Brien, a young member of the parish, recently selected as all scholastic tackle. Among the speakers were Charles Red Barrett of the Boston Braves, Artie Gore, National League umpire, and Milton Schmidt, of the Boston Bruins. Special agents of the F. B. I. presented a most interesting moving picture giving some of their most dramatic cases and their solution by the Bureau. The Chairman, Anthony Tiberi, who was assisted by Raymond Keefe, James J. Cole, Lawrence O'Brien, David J. Fitzmaurice, George Lawlor, James McGrath, Thomas Greehan, Henry O'Brien, Joseph O'Keefe, Charles Dolan, John Daly, and John Foster, are receiving commendation for the success of the affair.

To Hear MTA Fare Case In January

The State Public Utilities Commission will hold public hearings about the middle of January, 1948 on the petition filed last week by Metropolitan Transit Authority for annual fare increases totalling nearly $10,000,00 for the more than 2,500,000 commuters in the fourteen cities and towns served by the Authority.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael A. Troiano, of this town, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a grandson, Michael Joseph Troianos, to the Nicholas J. N. E. TEL. AND TEL. COMPANY SEEKS ADDITIONAL ANNUAL RISE IN INTRA-STATE OPERATIONS

Ask DPU To Accept Further Evidence In Seeking Rate Jump

As a result of further wage increases granted last September and in order to obtain earnings considered necessary on its Massachusetts investment, New England Telephone & Telegraph Company under date of December 2, seeks an additional seven per cent in increased annual revenues from its intrastate operations in Massachusetts. This new amount, the Company said, is urgently needed to meet requirements for telephone service in the Commonwealth.

The Company's action was in the form of a motion requesting the Department of Public Utilities to receive supplementary evidence in the case now before the Department arising from the Company's filing for increased rates last April.

In its filing of last April the Company sought the Department's authorization of rates to increase revenues by 15 per cent, including five per cent temporarily allowed by the Department in July, 1947, of the Company, stated that the Company's earnings during 1948 and anticipated earnings on present rates in 1949 clearly show the need for additional revenues. In Massachusetts since 1940, he said, revenues per telephone have increased 21 per cent, but expenses have increased 47 per cent and the earnings have gone down 38 per cent.

"During a period when the leading manufacturers of this country are reporting record earnings, the earnings of our company dropped to the lowest point in over 50 years," he said. "Moreover, this decline in earnings is taking place at a time when we are doing more business than ever before and at a time when we have been expanding our facilities at a pace greater than that ever experienced."

"The telephone business like many other businesses has been affected seriously by rising costs that marked the postwar period of inflation.

"For example, as wage rates in other industries were raised during and since the war, wage rates for telephone employees were correspondingly increased. The import of these wage rate increase, together with the employment of 10,000 additional men and women throughout the state, has increased our total wages in Massachusetts from $27 million in 1940 to over $70 million in 1948. This is an increase of 156 per cent and as a result wages now absorb 57 cents of every dollar we receive from telephone service.

"The total wages of $70 million paid in 1948 to telephone men and women in Massachusetts is only a part of the contribution that the telephone business makes to the prosperity of the state. The Company employs 27,000 people in the state of Massachusetts, pays taxes of $9 million on its Massachusetts operations and one of its suppliers, the Western Electric Company, alone purchased $16 million worth of materials and supplies from the businesses located in Massachusetts. These things spell additional benefits to many thousands of the people and businesses throughout the state.

"The Company's program of expansion and development had to be carried at postwar prices, and with all the new telephones added since the war to meet service requirements, the average plant investment for the postwar period is $328 per telephone. This is about double the average cost of $174 per telephone for the five-year period prior to the war and reflects higher building costs, higher costs of pole line and conduit work, higher costs of copper and lead as well as the many other materials used in telephone construction.

"Further expansion and development of our facilities is necessary to furnish better service for existing customers, to complete over 150,000 orders for party line customers who are waiting for individual lines and to provide new service for 16,000 people still on our waiting list.

"It will take a lot of capital to build the telephone plant required for this new construction and that capital must come from the savings of men and women all over America. They will invest their savings in the telephone business only if they are convinced that earnings on the money they invest in the business are at a reasonable level.

"Good telephone service in Massachusetts depends on these people continuing to put their money into the business, so we can go ahead with the big job of building the plant needed to expand and improve telephone service.

"These increases in telephone revenues are necessary so that we will be able to go forward with our program to give Massachusetts the good service it needs—and in doing this, to increase steadily the usefulness and value of telephone service throughout the Commonwealth.

Post Election Survey Shows Truman Personality And "New Deal" Dictated Most Votes

Tally of letters received by the News Department of radio station WCOP in its survey to find out why people voted as they did in the Presidential election, shows that Truman personality and New Deal policies carried the most weight with his supporters in the Greater Boston area.

Personality traits led all other reasons for voting for the President, with the first three reasons the feeling that he favored the common man, liking his sincerity and humility, and liking for his courage, in that order. Feeling that Truman would carry on New Deal policies, and that the Republicans had evaded the issues in the campaign carried equal weight with 16.6 percent of those replying. Other major reasons for a Truman vote were holding the 80th Congress responsible for current troubles, and blaming the Republicans for high prices.

Dewey supporters replied that their votes were dictated by the conviction that Dewey was a good administrator, opposition to New Deal policies, and the feeling that it was time for a change, in that order.

Tabulation of the WCOP "Why I Voted As I Did" replies follows:

Percent	Reason
27.9	Thought Truman favored the common man.
22.6	Liked Truman sincerity, humility.
20.5	Liked Truman courage.
16.6	Thought Truman would carry on the New Deal.
16.6	Thought Republicans evaded the issues.
15.3	Blamed 80th Congress for current troubles.

11.1	Blamed Republicans for high prices.
7.9	Thought Republicans supported big business.
6.8	Wanted rent control continued.
6.8	Resented Dewey overconfidence.
6.8	Thought Truman deserved another chance.
5.0	Liked Truman foreign policy.
4.7	Thought Truman more experienced.
3.2	Disliked Taft-Hartley law.
	Voted For Dewey Because:
36.4	Thought Dewey a good administrator.
31.4	Opposed New Deal policies.
28.9	Thought it was time for a change.
10.7	Admired dignity of Dewey campaign.
9.1	Thought Truman incompetent.

Child Worker Gives Talk To Parents

A combined meeting of the nine P. T. A. units in Arlington was held at our Town Hall on Thursday evening, Dec. 2nd.

Mr. Cameron Beck, Executive Director of the "Save the Child Foundation" presented a vivid account of conditions for the child in our own country and rest of the world. It is Mr. Beck's belief that everyone should interest himself in this kind of world our children will live in. The Talented child should be sought found and educated so he may give his best to the world of tomorrow. This child might possibly be found in the backwoods of the hill billy country, where even today some of the children go to school with burlap covering their bare feet. As parents we should do our best to take care of some of the deplorable conditions that are now existing both here and abroad. This may be accomplished either by donating money or by participating in active work in organizations which now exist trying to remedy this situation.

The presidents of the nine P. T. A. units were introduced by Mrs. Porteus who gave a brief account of the outstanding work of each individual association. Those present included, Mrs. Ehrlich Schreier, Brackett; Mrs. Raymond McKeever, Crosby; Mr. Donald Johnston, Cutter; Mrs. Milton Bretschger Hardy; Mr. Aram Sarkisian, Jr., High Centre; Mrs. James R. Boyd, Jr., High West; Mrs. T. Frank McCoy Locke; Mrs. Donald Pettie, Parmenter; and Mr. Copeland McAllister Pierce.

Mrs. Frank Lincoln, Chairman of the Fine Arts Program, gave an interesting talk on the importance of her project to our boys and girls and urged those who were able to support the program by sponsoring it.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Harvey Abbott, program chairman of the Council. She presented Mr. Francis Fabry, violinist and Miss Carole Lee Sandler, Accompanist, both juniors attending Arlington High School. These two young artists played three classical numbers, and thrilled those present with their musical ability. Miss Carole Lee Sandler, pianist, was the guest artist for the Philharmonic Concert of the Fine Arts Program last year.

Mrs. Abbott then introduced Mr. Cameron Beck, by saying that this famous speaker had spoken in the afternoon to the students at our high school and how they were stimulated by his message. When the speaker was finished with his talk, he introduced the Rev. Claud Butterworth who added a few interesting, complimentary remarks to Mr. Beck's address.

NOW . . . HOME ELECTRIC RATE
LOWER THAN EVER BEFORE!

Today, in Boston and 39 surrounding towns and cities served by Boston
Edison Company,
the average home customer, using approximately 100 kilowatt hours a month, pays less for electricity than ever before in history. We are proud to make this announcement.

The latest Boston Edison rate reduction, to be shared by 356,000 household customers, is the third since 1938 and makes it truer than ever that ELECTRICITY is the SHINING EXCEPTION TO THE RULE OF HIGH PRICES.
